

What is a CCS (Certified Customs Specialist) designation?

Become a CCS

In order to become a CCS, an individual must:

- successfully complete the CSCB CCS \(Certified Customs Specialist\) course, OR
- work for a CSCB member, have at least two years' work experience in the industry, and successfully challenge the examination (that is, write the examination without enrolling in the CCS course).

Benefits of becoming a CCS

- CCS Today, a daily email covering technical, operational and educational information you need to guarantee the quality of service that will be expected from those with the CCS designation;
- A lapel pin recognizing your designation;
- Use of the designation of CCS (Certified Customs Specialist) next to your name;
- Access to the CCS online community through a discussion forum;

- Secure job board featuring jobs posted by Canadian customs broker firms and others;
- Preferential registration fees for CSCB events and courses; and
- Group home and auto insurance at preferred rates.

Maintenance of CCS designation

Certified Customs Specialists must maintain their designations on an annual basis which ensures that they are up-to-date on new customs policies, administrative programs and fast-changing international trade agreements. This includes annual reporting and payment requirements.

For more information, please watch our short video!

Questions/Comments

If you have any questions, please visit our FAQs or email us at courseinfo@cscb.ca.

Source URL (modified on 2019-05-09 10:20): <http://cscb.ca/content/what-ccs-certified-customs-specialist-designation>